

Yethu Manifesto

Yethu means 'our' in isi-Xhosa - a fitting name for a network of schools committed to reducing learner dropout for the benefit of our communities and the country.

Yethu is about unlocking the potential of South Africa's children, one school at a time. The values of the network are expressed in a manifesto that all schools are encouraged to support:

We strive to make our learners feel welcome in school every day so that they are inspired to learn, speak up, and think creatively.

We are committed to creating a positive space for our learners through moments that matter.

We value caregivers and parents as key partners in making school a positive experience for our learners.

We are determined to help our learners stay in, and succeed at, school.
